- Background Paper on Ethics and research on perpetration of sexual violence: Existing guidelines/papers focus on doing research with survivors with little work in the area of ethics of research on perpetration.

Building Capacity

- SVRI Help Desk (svri@mrc.ac.za)
- Facilitate access to tools / information via website
- Multi-country study proposal development project: 2 concept papers selected:
 - multi-country study in Kenya, South Africa, Malawi, Zambia and Zimbabwe => proposal fully funded for research on strengthening the health sector response to sexual violence in East and Southern Africa
 - a study between partners based in India and Pakistan
- Regional workshops: India 2007; Kenya 2008
- Ethics Workshop
- Global Forum for Health Research Annual Meeting
 - Forum 10 Cairo - roundtable on sexual violence in Arabic nations
 - Forum 11 Beijing - roundtable on sexual violence in China
 - Forum Havana Cuba - roundtable on sexual violence in LAC

Policy & Service Delivery

- Strengthening Responses to Rape - Africa region:
 - Need for a reorientation of health care for SV survivors towards meeting their psychological, social and physical health needs in services staffed by appropriately trained providers.
 - Aim is to shift the orientation and perceptions of the role of post rape care from a predominant focus on the collection of medico-legal evidence to the provision of holistic care to meet the short, medium and long term mental and physical health needs of survivors.
- Project Framework: partnership, policy, research and training:
 - promote the development of working multi-disc partnerships.
 - promote the development of appropriate national policy.
 - promote the conduct and use of research.
 - promote the development of new models of training.
- Key Activities
 - Meeting in Kenya – Country plans
 - Regional training of multi-disc teams on best practice for caring for survivors of sexual assault - Malawi, Kenya, Zambia, Zimbabwe, Nigeria, Rwanda; Uganda
 - Technical support adaptation of curriculum, policy development and research at country level

Partnerships / Networks

- Members of the SVRI Coordinating Group represent the SVRI internationally and advocates for more research and funding in the area of sexual violence in the many meetings they are invited to attend.
